NextMed: Design for/the Well Being

The program of the 17th annual MMVR is now available at nextmed.com/mmvr_program.html

The 2009 conference offers key advances in medical simulation, modeling, visualization, and robotics. It showcases tools and methods that are transforming patient care, surgical practice, clinical therapy, medical education, mental and physical rehabilitation, and public health.

MMVR stimulates potential and highlights accomplishments. Developers and end users collaborate to design the future of health.

Attend MMVR17 and participate in an interdisciplinary, vanguard community of scientists and engineers, physicians and surgeons, medical educators and students, military medicine specialists, and biomedical futurists.

MMVR turns vision into proficiency.™

January 19 – 22, 2009

THE HYATT REGENCY LONG BEACH
Long Beach, California

The 15th annual Satava Award will be presented at MMVR17. Established in 1995 to acknowledge the contribution of Richard M. Satava MD FACS, the award is presented to an individual or research group demonstrating unique vision and commitment to improving medicine through advanced technology.
